Californian Mountain Retreat.....

Only a 190 mile drive from the hustle and bustle of Los Angeles lies the secluded mountain retreat of the Sequoia High Sierra Camp, set deep in the wilderness of the Sierra Nevada mountains amongst the mighty Sequoia trees. Without television, Wi-Fi and miles away from mobile phone signals, this is a serious get-away-from-it-all holiday.

The Sequoia High Sierra Camp combines the best aspects of a wilderness adventure with the furnishings and guest amenities of a deluxe hotel. Think Davey Crockett meets Ralph Lauren. At an elevation of 8,000 feet, the 36 cabins of the Camp are nestled amongst red firs and pines. As you'd expect, the views are incredible...blue-grey peaks unimpeded on every side.

Food plays a large part of your stay here. Three daily meals are included with each one-night stay at the Camp and all go far beyond traditional campfire fare. Incorporating sustainable, local ingredients, the Camp's healthy cuisine is served al-fresco in the dining pavilion.

Numerous scenic and adventurous day hiking excursions are easily accessible from the Sequoia High Sierra Camp.

The Camp is open 15 June - 01 October each year.
